Aruna's story

Aruna was born in Guddalur Nilgris district which is called Queen of Hills. She was born in poor family where her parents had lots of problems, with suffering to the peak, her mother committed suicide and died. She was left alone with her father and a younger brother who was 7 months old. Her grand mother took care of them for a while, but her father took her away from there and soon the insufficient care killed her brother a year later. The father took the girl and asked her to work at an early age and he went away with another women.

Aruna's life started with pain in new state with a new language, new people. She had to work for her food and shelter. Someone from her home town heard that she was left by her father and that she was suffering in an unknown house working for food. One of her uncle's searched for her and rescued her life. At the age of 10 she was brought to Love and Grace Mission and today she is 15 years old studying in 10th grade and will graduate soon. This is her home now and she has hope for her future!
